Hurricane Causes Drastic Roster Changes

Maggie Carpenter (@DarthMaggie) and Noah Powers (@_Powers_N_J)
 Student Correspondents

The beginning of October 2016 was characterized by torrential downpours across the Carolinas, courtesy of Hurricane Matthew, a storm that barreled across the east coast, causing major flooding and damaging thousands of homes. The storm cancelled school in various parts of both states, forcing both the NCHSAA and the SCHSL to push back the high school football playoffs a week to accommodate for cancelled games and missed practice time.

To many peoples' dismay, a majority of state championship games in both states now fell on the Saturday of Shrine Bowl, forcing some players and coaches to drop out after winning semifinal games. In light of this, many alternate players were called late Friday night to be notified of their opportunity to play in this year's game. Zach McIntosh, an offensive lineman from Daniel High School in Central, SC, received his call at 12:30 AM on Saturday morning.

"[Getting the call] threw me off a little bit at first," McIntosh said. "It was so shocking because it was so late and you just don't expect it, you think it's all set in stone. For Coach Fru, the head coach at Daniel, to call me late last night and tell me I was invited to Shrine Bowl, just gave me a breathtaking opportunity."

Linebacker Devondrez Moore, of Orange High School in Hillsborough, NC, was notified by his father Friday night that due to playoff conflicts he now had a spot on the Tar Heels' Shrine Bowl roster. Moore stated that he is currently playing basketball, but even with a game on player registration day, he chose the Shrine Bowl because he feels his future is in football.

Players were not the only ones affected by the playoff delay. Multiple coaches on both teams had to be replaced because their respective teams advanced to the state championship games. These coaches (three in North Carolina, one in South Carolina) were able to pick who they thought was fit to replace them on the Shrine Bowl coaching staff. North Carolina in particular was placed in a less-than-enviable situation when head coach David Gentry of Murphy High School was unable to attend due to his team reaching the state championship game. David Lovette, of Gray's Creek High School in Hope Mills, was brought in to replace Gentry as North Carolina's head coach.

Though many of these changes were made last minute, each team hopes to practice and perform to the best of their abilities as players, coaches, and game staff count down to the 80th Shrine Bowl of the Carolinas. The coaching staffs for both states have high hopes heading into game week, and though both teams have faced adversity, each and every coach and player plans to overcome the obstacles they've faced thus far and become successful as the Shrine Bowl draws near.

Revised rosters for both teams and for the coaches are on the following pages.

Shrine Bowl Student Correspondents

Representing the South Carolina team as a Student Correspondent for this year's game is Maggie Carpenter from Lexington, South Carolina. Maggie is a senior at Lexington High School in Lexington, South Carolina, where she is a member of the National Honor Society and Quill and Scroll Honor Society. She is the Vice President of the Economics Club, plays as a goalkeeper for the Varsity Soccer team, and served as a Junior Marshall. Maggie was also a member of the Cat's Paw Yearbook staff for three years and the Reporting and Captions Editor for two of her years on the staff. During her time as a staffer, she was awarded First Place for SCSPA's Best Feature Story category.

Maggie is the daughter of Lance and Mary Carpenter. Her college choices include Vanderbilt University, the University of South Carolina, the College of Charleston, and Miami University (OH). She plans on majoring in International Business, Public Relations, or Economics.

Noah Powers is a senior at Western Harnett High School located in Lillington, NC. He is currently the Service Project Coordinator for the Beta Club and a proud member of the Western Harnett High School Varsity football team. He was selected as a Junior Class Marshal his junior year. is also the current editor of "The Eagle Times," a student-run online sports blog created by 2015 Western Harnett graduate and former Student Correspondent, Noah Thomas, which can be reached at eaglesathletics.blogspot.com.

His college choices include the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, the University of North Carolina at Wilmington, East Carolina University, and the University of Miami (FL). He hopes to major in either Broadcast Journalism or Photojournalism with a focus in sports.
